

Harry's Game part 4B solution

Thankyou for your message however I will reassure you that my confidence in our situation is not misplaced at all. Please consider the fact that I am may just not be revealing my entire battle at this time, the opinion of this field agent is of great importance for reasons which I will not reveal incase this message is intercepted.

After my last advance, Rose seems to have disappeared. I am hoping that she will return soon but I feel trying to persuade her to do training may in fact be the wrong approach and we should try something more subtle. Your information of her gift is very interesting as so far any advice she has given has been flawless, maybe we should consider a different position for her. If you are right then it is vitally important that she is protected and we must double our efforts in trying to find her.

I also have also just heard news that our enemy is now investing heavily in cryptanalysis so I recommend from here on the use varied and strong cyphers. You would be well advised to consider sharing the es amongst other letters as I have done here to distort the frequency or using a poly alphabetic cypher to the same effect but even this may not prove enough depending. I have instructed my spies to keep me well informed on any developments and to make it one of their main priorities as secure communication is critical in this stage of the war.

H