

Harry's Game part 8A solution

These are the times that will be remembered.

The information I have passed to Harry should be the salvation of our land if it is used correctly. It must silence the thunder, my ally gave her life to obtain it.
Perhaps I will not be remembered as a traitor.

I cannot take the risk that it will also guarantee my salvation, I will vanish like a spectre and live my life quietly now that the storm has passed and spring has arrived in my beloved country.
